Creative Curriculum Focus

Our new topic is called Gallery rebels.

Each week we are going to focus on a different art movement. This week in our modern art topic I want to research and find out about Damien Hirst, you will need: An empty jar, an object of your choice, jelly/gelatine, and a small amount of blue food colouring. You can also research other modern artists and replicate their art work.

If you do have a go at home send me your pictures on twitter or purple mash.

Create your own art movement sketch book so all of your art work over the next 6 weeks is together.
